United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea concluded at Montego Bay, Jamaica on 10 December 1982

Deposit by Chile of a chart showing the maritime boundary between Argentina and Chile, with the list of geographical coordinates of points

The Secretary-General of the United Nations communicates the following:

On 30 June 1999, Chile deposited with the Secretary-General, in accordance with article 16(2), 75(2) and 84(2) of the Convention, the following chart:

Chart No. 1 annexed to the Treaty of Peace and Friendship concluded between Argentina and Chile on 29 November 1984, with list of geographical coordinates of points

In this connection, due note should be taken that in its final verbatim of transmission, the Permanent Mission of Chile to the United Nations recalled that article 3 of the Treaty of Peace and Friendship provides that:

“The Parties agree that in the area included between Cape Horn and the easternmost point of “Isla de los Estados”, the legal effects of the territorial sea shall be limited, in their mutual relations, to a strip of three marine miles measured from their respective base lines.

In the area indicated in the preceding paragraph, each Party may invoke with regard to third States the maximum width of the territorial sea permitted by international law.

The original chart with the list of geographical coordinates submitted by Chile may be consulted at the Secretariat (Division for Ocean Affairs and the Law of the Sea, Office of Legal Affairs, D-2, 0458, telephone: 963-3962 or fax: 963-5847).
