INTRODUCTION

Under articles 16, paragraph 2; 47, paragraph 9;

The Division of the Sea has further established a Geographic Information System (GIS). The GIS enables the Division to prepare illustrative maps based on geographical data submitted in the form of charts, or of lists of geographical coordinates. All submitted data are stored in digital format in a single GIS database which is connected with the National Legislation / Delimitation Treaties database, providing access to other relevant information linked to certain geographic features. The Division is thus in a position to respond adequately to requests for

The maps are in Mercator projection and the scale denominator shown on the maps refers to the scale at the Equator. Owing to the nature of the Mercator projection, the scale changes towards the North and South Poles. In order to measure distances on parallels other than the Equator, a scale factor should be considered. Use of the scale factor in measurements eliminates the effects of the distortion of distance inherent to the Mercator projection, which increases with the distance from the Equator.

NOTE: The names and designations used in this Circular as well as the boundaries, maritime limits, names and designations shown on the illustrative maps do not imply their official endorsement or acceptance by the United Nations, neither do they imply official endorsement or acceptance of the legal status of countries or their authorities. The illustrative maps are based on the lists of geographical coordinates and/or charts as submitted by the coastal State indicated. All lists of deposited geographical coordinates, originals of deposited charts, as well as illustrative maps on various scales may be consulted at the Division for Ocean Affairs and the Law of the Sea, Office of Legal Affairs, United Nations Secretariat, DC2-0458, telephone: (2"2) 963-3962 or fax: (2"2) 963-5847.
