

- 3) In this connection, the statements of the Chinese Foreign Minister concerning the presence of the People's Republic of China, are also relevant to the situation in the South China Sea.

The Chinese Foreign Minister said:

"...we must defend our rights and interests from the mainland and in the middle or the high sea as a basepoint to maintain our space concerns the fundamental principles of the Chinese Constitution and legitimate interest of the global community."

It is clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.

It is also clear that the Chinese Foreign Minister is referring to the South China Sea.