first cases only in the region and the impact of the pathogen has caused immense suffering.

The data shows a significant increase in cases starting around 2019, peaking in late 2022. The highest number of cases is observed in Africa, followed by Asia and Europe. Other regions like Latin America, Middle East, North America, Oceania, and South America also show varying levels of impact. The graph indicates that the pathogen's impact is not uniform across all regions, with Africa and Asia experiencing the most severe cases.
