Measures to Eliminate International Terrorism

ning/Afternoon

n,

Gentlemen/Distinguished delegates,

The King first time, would like to congratulate their members of the first election and wish them all the best for the work ahead.

n,

As a witness to the atrocities and the terror inflicted on its victims the tragic effects which are still present in various parts of the world.

The use of terrorism remains a serious threat to international peace and security.
Globalization and the widespread use of technology have led to diversity in the manner in which terrorism is carried out; from the use of traditional weapons to the new technologies and the use of technology to create weapons without borders. In addition, terrorists are able to create widespread fear and destruction everywhere and use goods such as fertilisers.

Nevertheless, international and regional conventions do not subject them to have been drafted to ensure that all citizens of the world, we act responsibly so that access to the tools of terrorism are eliminated and that the perpetrators of terrorism are accordingly brought to justice.

The Russian Federation condemns terrorism in all its forms and manifestations and believes that it should not be associated with any religion, nationality, civilization or ethnic group. The Russian Federation is a party to a number of international instruments and has undertaken to actively legislative measures.
