

Measures to Eliminate International Terrorism

Thank you, Mr. Chairperson,

Mr. Chairperson,

At the outset, I would like to congratulate you on your election and thank you and the bureau of the Sixth Committee for your efforts. As always, I wish to convey my delegation's fullest support and pledge of cooperation

Mr. Chairperson,

The State of Israel is, unfortunately, no stranger to terrorism. Our small State faces daily threats from various terrorist groups and actors that aim to sow terror and fear in the hearts of all of our civilians. These terrorists and terrorist groups use a variety of tactics and methods that challenge law-abiding nations, including the notorious and ubiquitous practice of employing human shields from behind which

Mr. Chairperson,

In our fight against terrorism, Israel remains committed to the rule of law and the value of life. We seek legal tools that are in line with our domestic and international obligations to combat terrorism effectively, while upholding these principles. This is true even when faced with an enemy that has no regard for such obligations and even views our commitment to such principles as a weakness that is to be used and manipulated to create a strategic and public relations advantage.

One way we do this is through our domestic laws which we hope will serve as a model for other States carry out attacks or offer stipends to their families, fueling terrorism by providing both means and

Nations that are committed to combatting terrorism must constantly review both their counter-terrorism legislation and their criteria for foreign and humanitarian assistance, in order to ensure that they are not

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

Mr. Chairperson,

As we gather annually to discuss the global threat to security and peace, we must then turn these gatherings into action, and unite as one community of nations to combat terrorism. As it is the Sixth Committee that is tasked with focusing on legal issues, we must redouble our efforts both domestically and internationally to ensure that we develop and foster the best and most effective legal tools and remedies that will make a meaningful contribution to fight terrorism within the law. This includes growing as lawyers committed to the rule of law that we avoid confusing law and politics, as we do often do in the context of terrorism, and not allow for the selective application of legal principles in