I was born in Kibungo province in 1986. I am in my third year of secondary school.

When I was young, I thought people were the same, that there was no discrimination. That was not true because people in our country were not equal. When I was growing up, I realized that I had no value. They told me at home that no Tutsi child who had finished primary school could continue to secondary school because a Hutu child would replace him.

At school, some children used to tell us that their parents told them not to speak to the snakes. We were the snakes and we were hated even th
