UN Declaration and Programme of Action on a Culture of Peace (CoP) A/RES/53/243
A Pact for the Future

CoP is a comprehensive, UN established “blueprint” or “roadmap” of actions necessary at all levels of existence to manifest sustainable peace

Chapter II: International peace and security:

Chapter V: Transforming global governance:

develop national prevention strategies to address the different drivers and enablers of violence and conflict in societies and strengthen national “infrastructures for peace.” that Member States seeking to establish or strengthen national “infrastructures for peace” should be able to access a tailor-made package of support and expertise The pairing of these two guiding UN principles “Culture of Peace and Infrastructure for Peace” should be included in the PACT together as a futuristic step toward UN fulfillment of its peace mission. Culture of Peace declares the UN’s peace vision as normative and prescribes the roadmap of actions needed at all levels to actualize it. Governmental Infrastructures for Peace such as Departments and Ministries of Peace are the roadways or platforms of peace architecture that support essential peace actions like diplomacy to readily occur so peace can take root and grow.
